

K&L Gates Public Policy and Law Practice: Aviation and Airport Policy

K&L Gates provides legislative, regulatory and legal services to the transportation industry. The firm offers a wide range of services to its transportation clients.

Our aviation practice is well-established. We represent a variety of clients on diverse local, state, domestic, and international aviation matters; handle aviation matters in the United States for foreign companies; and litigate on behalf of aviation clients in federal and state courts throughout the United States. Our representation includes manufacturers and suppliers, acting as counsel for the aviation operations of major corporations and for individuals, and serving as bond counsel.

We represent cities, counties, states, and authorities that own and operate airports. We have handled diverse legislative and federal funding matters before Congress as well as regulatory matters and air service development opportunities for our clients before the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT), U.S. Department of State (State Department), U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS), and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

Our Services:

- Legislative advocacy
- Federal funding from Congress and federal agencies
- Regulatory work before federal agencies
- International trade matters
- Corporate and financial transactions
- General litigation
- Government contract counseling and litigation
- Environmental compliance counseling and litigation.
