

K&L Gates Public Policy and Law Practice:

Federal Funding

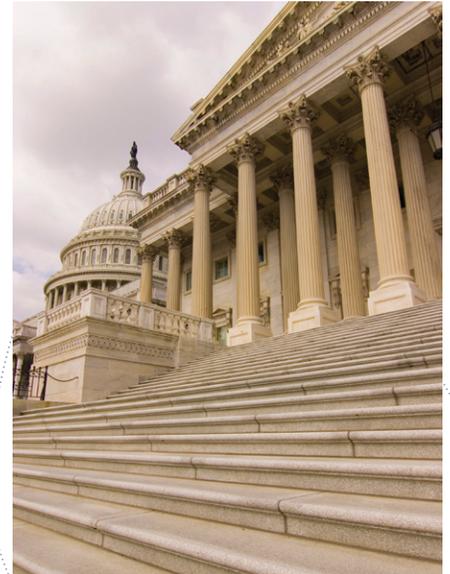

K&L Gates' federal funding practice blends the three elements of a successful program: substantive knowledge, a detailed understanding of the process and access to key decision-makers in the United States Congress and the Administration.

We have built our practice by knowing how the complex budget and appropriations processes work—from beginning to end. We know not only the formalities such as committee structure and agency programs and accounts, but we also recognize the intangibles such as members' personal relations and staffers' agendas.

K&L Gates interacts with the highest level of decision-makers in both the U.S. House and Senate on a daily basis. Our team knows and works with officials in the Administration, including at the Office of Management and Budget, to ensure that programs of interest to clients are funded within the Administration's budget request and that client projects funded by the U.S. Congress are obligated in a timely manner.

Our team is focused on meeting and exceeding the goals of our clients in obtaining federal appropriations and federal agency funding. We represent clients on a broad range of funding matters that result in direct expenditure of federal funds or preserve an exemption or an authority.

K&L Gates secured more than US$650 million in FY-06 through FY-09 in project earmarks and federal agency program funding of interest to clients.
