OVERVIEW

Rebecca Gill is a corporate lawyer in our technology, sourcing and privacy team at the Melbourne office.

Rebecca advises clients on a broad range of technology matters, including Software as a Service (SaaS) agreements, terms and conditions for software products and platforms as well as software procurement and outsourcing projects. She also provides regulatory advice to clients on privacy and cybersecurity issues.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Rebecca joined K&L Gates as a seasonal clerk and then as a graduate, completing the graduate program and gaining exposure to technology transactions and privacy, asset management and investment funds, restructuring and insolvency and general corporate advisory work.

Prior to joining K&L Gates, Rebecca worked as a research assistant at Melbourne Law School for notable academics in the field of corporations law. She assisted in major grant applications and research for projects and publications on topics such as not-for-profit law, directors' duties in Australia and various overseas jurisdictions, and company constitutions.
