OVERVIEW

Daniel Greenaway is a partner in the firm's London office. He is a member of the Asset Management and Investment Funds practice group.

He concentrates his practice on launching funds and investment platforms for clients that raise capital across a global, primarily institutional, investor base. He has extensive experience advising institutional and boutique fund managers on private funds across private equity, venture capital, credit, infrastructure and real estate. Daniel acts for managers whether they are raising a discretionary fund, spinning out of an existing institution or raising co-investment funds. He also assists institutional investors on their fund investment and co-investment programmes. According to Chambers and Partners "Daniel is exemplary, demonstrating a commercial understanding of his clients' businesses, and combining that with a first-class knowledge of legal and regulatory structuring of funds."

Daniel has authored chapters in The Guide to Responsible Investment (PEI: Private Equity International) and Understanding Private Debt in Europe (PEI: Private Debt Investor).

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Prior to joining the firm, Daniel was a partner in the funds and financial services team at an international law firm.
