OVERVIEW

Paul Sweeney is a member of the Los Angeles office's commercial litigation group, where he focuses his practice on handling complex business disputes, both individual and class action lawsuits, involving unfair business practices, false advertising, consumer fraud, trade regulation, privacy violations, civil rights, and violations of various federal and state statutes and regulations. He has also handled a number of employment arbitrations and lawsuits involving claims of discrimination, wage-hour violations, wrongful termination, and theft of trade secrets. He represents clients primarily in the manufacturing, retailing, technology, financial services, food and beverage, medical device, and entertainment industries.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Paul served as a White House Fellow, where he worked for the White House Chief of Staff/Assistant to the President for Intergovernmental Affairs. Paul has also served as a volunteer prosecutor for the Los Angeles City Attorney's Office, Criminal Branch, where he handled misdemeanor jury trials. Paul was named a Southern California "Super Lawyer" by Los Angeles Magazine in 2010-2019. He was also named as one of the Minority Leaders of Influence in 2021 and Most Influential Minority Attorneys in Los Angeles in 2019 by the Los Angeles Business Journal.
