OVERVIEW

Peter Soskin is an associate in the firm's San Francisco office. His practice focuses on litigation matters, and he primarily represents clients in intellectual property, and products liability-related matters. Additionally, he has experience in commercial litigation and real property matters.

Peter represents clients in federal and state courts and has experience in all stages of litigation including drafting and successfully arguing motions for summary judgment and motions in limine.

Peter is also committed to K&L Gates' efforts to ensure that the underserved have access to pro bono representation. He serves as the San Francisco office's associate liaison to local organizations in order to connect potential pro bono clients with attorneys in K&L Gates' San Francisco and Palo Alto offices.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Prior to joining K&L Gates, Peter was an associate at a Bay Area law firm. During law school, he served on the Hastings Business Law Journal, and studied international business law at the Instituto de Empresa in Madrid, Spain. During the summer after his second year of law school, he served as a law clerk for a boutique law firm in Dusseldorf, Germany.

Prior to attending law school, Peter played baseball at the collegiate and professional levels, and coached baseball internationally.
