OVERVIEW

Olivia Mora is an associate at the firm's Houston office, where she is a member of the energy, infrastructure, and resources practice group. Her practice includes domestic and international energy transactions, with a focus on liquefied natural gas (LNG), power, energy trading commodity, and related transactions.

Olivia is also actively involved in pro bono engagements, which includes assisting asylum seekers in immigration proceedings, and is a member of the firm's Global Ethical Supply Chain Task Force.

Olivia is a co-author of the Energizer, a biweekly update on blockchain technology applications, distributed energy resources, and other innovative technologies in the clean energy sector.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Prior to joining the firm, Olivia spent her summer Texas RioGrande Legal Aid, counseling clients on federal income tax and consumer protection related matters. Olivia served as a summer associate in the firm's Houston office in 2017.

As a law student, Olivia was as Staff Editor of The Texas International Law Journal. She also served as a student attorney in the University Of Texas School Of Law's Entrepreneurship and Community Development Clinic, where she drafted legislation and testified before the Texas Senate Committee on Intergovernmental Relations.

Before attending law school, Olivia worked as a law clerk in the Office of the Parliamentarian for the Texas House of Representatives.
